Chapter 6 by bruh26

Then, I found my email, and it had another message, with a bunch of pixelated rainbow, nyan cat, narwhals, haning on the so called compter piece of paper that they type the message into.

WOW - check this out! I found Youtube... I have been on three days straight, gosh time flies on here.

SO many stupid videos, the instructive ones would be to productive to watch, I prefer to waste by watching SNL and BLR...

Chapter 8 by -

Okay I was joking! I watch more important things, like Studio C :P

No but I have a string of educational videos I watch. A form of self-educating. So documentaries about WWII or psychological issues I often run across. But I suppose what I watch the most, are classical music videos. I mean what is better than that when doing schoolwork?

Nothing, especially when it is David Garret playing the violin :).
